Ali Sina's Disagreement With Fundamentalist Atheists (Materialists)

Ali Sina's Disagreement With Fundamentalist Atheists (Materialists)

This is the list of my discussion with fundamentalist atheists. I am myself an atheist. I do not believe in the existence of any God as a being. Yet I cannot accept the extreme fundamentalist view of pure materialism. I disagree with fundamentalism, be it religious or of other kinds. I believe that fundamentalist atheism is every bit as ugly and dangerous as any other form of fundamentalism. The brutalities of the atheist states (communists and Nazis) during the 20th century proved that there is little difference between religious fundamentalism and atheistic fundamentalism.

I copied the following somewhere from the Internet: “The essence of any fundamentalism is the view that there is only one possible explanation for reality, that everybody else is deluded and that the world would be a better place if other people just got with the programme and accepted the self-evident correctness of my opinion.”

This debate at times became vitriolic, as it often happens in any debate with fundamentalists and those who are convinced of their point of view.
